

MurphMail Survey on the Strategic Petroleum Reserve LINK

Recently, Congressman Murphy sent a "MurphMail" asking his constituents if they think the President should suspend oil input into the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR), putting more oil on the market.

74.96% of respondents thought the President should suspend input into the SPR.

19.01% of respondents thought the President should continue to put oil into the SPR.

6.03% of respondents said they didn't know what they thought about this question.

Murphy recently called on the President to suspend input into the SPR - click here to learn more about his efforts to attempt to bring down high gas prices and make us more energy independent.

Sign up for Chris' e-newsletter, "MurphMail".